A WORD FROM THE CURATORS

BY ALIA TAMAR & TESSA WHITEHEAD

The D'Aguilar Art Foundation proudly presents As We Are, a compelling street photography exhibition curated to showcase the collective spirit from diverse walks of life in Nassau, The Bahamas. Featuring a blend of professional photographers, hobbyists, and community members, this exhibition serves as a poignant reminder of our shared humanity and the intrinsic connections that bind us together. Through the lens of each contributor, As We Are offers a glimpse into the movements through the landscapes we inhabit and the people, animals and things that we encounter.

The exhibition boasts a breadth of perspectives- some artists photographing similar spaces from completely different angles and others finding unique and personal moments within the public spaces of our shared island.

As you traverse the exhibition space, you may encounter scenes that resonate with your own lived experiences or glimpse the very different lives lead on such a small island. We invite you to embark on a journey of exploration, discovering the familiar and the unfamiliar within the landscapes we call home.

MAXIMILIAN FRITSCHÉ

Maximilian Fritsche was born and raised in Cologne, Germany to a Bahamian mother and German father. Visiting his family once a year, he grew a desire to return to his roots. In 2019, Maximilian moved to The Bahamas at the age of 23 to open Turns Schuh, the one and only skate shop in The Bahamas. Maximilian's skate photography focuses on the urban environment, in which street skateboarding takes place. The composition highlights the architecture of the popular skate spots. His analogue photography is mostly snapshot portraits of people, capturing the daily life on Bay Street in and around the skate shop.
